

Attention Please

There's a new exhibit at the Hardin Library, 3rd floor near the front door.

Title: The Apothecary

The exhibit offers many practical hints on the care of the human physick.

A recipe for Ointment of Tar and Opium. This compound has been found very efficacious in haemorrhoids.

A recipe for The Draught with Millepedes. This is given in Hectical Complaints, where the Lungs are supposed to have Scrophulous Tubercles.

Culpeper's School of Physick. Nich Culpeper. 1659. The soles of the Feet rubbed with good Mustard, helps forgetfulness, and quickens the motion.

Many additional recipes are included.

University of Iowa
Hardin Library for the Health Sciences
John Martin Rare Book Room
Donna Hirst, Curator
donna-hirst@uiowa.edu
335-9154