

New Exhibit, March 2018 to Fall, 2019
Hardin Library for the Health Sciences, 3rd floor

Humans in Medical Experiments: Issues of Social Justice

Exhibit highlights eleven instances of human experimentation from 1796 to 2013. Displays include early experiments on digestion and X-rays, WWII experiments by the Nazis and Japanese, experiments for the Manhattan Project, Atomic Energy Commission, and Holmesburg Prison. Panels and materials provided by the University Human Subjects Office describe the past, present and future of Protection of Human Research Subjects.

William Beaumont,
1822-1833

Holmesburg Prison,
1951-1974

William Morton and the
X-ray, 1896-1905